DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-3 are allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 251

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 251 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Whenever any patent is, through error without any deceptive intention, deemed wholly or partly inoperative or invalid, by reason of a defective specification or drawing, or by reason of the patentee claiming more or less than he had a right to claim in the patent, the Director shall, on the surrender of such patent and the payment of the fee required by law, reissue the patent for the invention disclosed in the original patent, and in accordance with a new and amended application, for the unexpired part of the term of the original patent.

No new matter shall be introduced into the application for reissue.

The Director may issue several reissued patents for distinct and separate parts of the thing patented, upon demand of the applicant, and upon payment of the required fee for a reissue for each of such reissued patents.

The provisions of this title relating to applications for patent shall be applicable to applications for reissue of a patent, except that application for reissue may be made and sworn to by the assignee of the entire interest if the application does not seek to enlarge the scope of the claims of the original patent.

No reissued patent shall be granted enlarging the scope of the claims of the original patent unless applied for within two years from the grant of the original patent.

If a claim is presented in a reissue application that omits, in its entirety, the surrender-generating limitation, that claim impermissibly recaptures what was previously surrendered, and that claim is barred under 35 U.S.C. 251.

Art Unit: 2851

If the claims are “broader than they are narrower in a manner directly pertinent to the subject matter... surrendered during prosecution” In re Clement, 131 F.3d 1464, 45 USPQ2d 1161, 1166(Fed. Cir. 1997), then recapture will bar the claims.

The recapture rule bars the patentee from acquiring, through reissue, claims that are in all aspects (A) of the same scope as, or (B) broader in scope than, those claims canceled from the original application to obtain a patent. In re Ball Corp. v. United States, 729 F.2d at 1436, 221 USPQ at 295.

Claims 4-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 251 as being recaptured subject matter. Specifically, the surrender generating limitation of “the blocking member has a first shoulder and a second shoulder, and the blocking pin is movably arranged in the lever” is missing from the currently rejected claims.

The following is from MPEP 1412.02:

(a) Reissue Claims are Narrower in Scope Than Patent Claims, in Area Not Directed to Amendment/Argument Made to Overcome Art Rejection in Original Prosecution; are Broader in Scope by Omitting Limitation(s) Added/Argued To Overcome Art Rejection in Original Prosecution: In this case, there is recapture.

This situation is where the patent claims are directed to combination ABC and the reissue claims are directed to ABD. Element C was either a limitation added to AB to obtain allowance of the original patent, or was argued by applicant to define over the art (or both). Thus, addition of C (and/or argument as to C) has resulted in the surrender of any combination of A & B that does not include C; this is the surrendered subject matter. Element D, on the other hand, is not related to the surrendered subject matter. Thus, the reissue claim, which no longer contains C, is broadened in an area related to the surrender, and the narrowing via the addition of D does not save the claim from recapture since D is not related to the surrendered subject matter.

In the example above as applied to applicant's claim 4, element C corresponds to the limitation of "the blocking member has a first shoulder and a second shoulder, and the blocking pin is movably arranged in the lever" and element D corresponds to "a head (12), a spring element (27) for biasing the head (12) against the second member (6)".

The applicant is directed to review MPEP 1412.01 and 1412.02. as well as Pannu v. Storz Instruments Inc., 258 F.3d 1366, 59 USPQ2d 1597 (Fed. Cir. 2001)
